Appendix A
Examples of high exploration or low residency (top row) and low exploration or high residency (bottom row) behaviour (as described by SDΔND). The middle row shows moderate levels of exploration and residency. All data were for adult male white-tailed deer in south-central, Oklahoma, USA over the 36-day study period (combined for both 2008 and 2009).